A CONNECTION TO COUNTRY

Landing in beautiful Broome, a place of rich cultural history, UniSA science and law student, Dejana Graziano, was about to embark on an experience of a lifetime.

Dejana Graziano, Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Science, Office Manager, Legislative Council of South Australia.

During a six-week internship, Dejana travelled to the remote community of Biridu to meet with Aboriginal elders to discuss the devastating consequences of intergenerational trauma. Dejana was able to experience a first-hand consultation between the Western Australian Government and the local leaders.

"I've always been interested in sustainability and being involved in work that will positively contribute to current and future generations," she says.

"I'm particularly passionate about land conservation and land rights because these issues have a large focus on the interconnected areas of environmental sustainability and the promotion of social justice."

Dejana felt privileged to work so closely with Nyamba Buru Yawuru (NBY), which is the body corporate that holds native title on behalf of the Yawuru people. After a 12-year battle for recognition, the Yawuru people are now the legally recognised owners of this sacred land in the West Kimberley region.

Connecting deeply with the community, Dejana also helped to run a youth forum that focused on identifying and resolving issues faced by young Aboriginal people and children living in the area.

"From walking through the mangroves and spotting whales from the coast, to star gazing in the outback and camping in a swag on country, this is an experience I'll never forget. Above all, I enjoyed meeting some amazing people and hearing their stories", she says.

"To new students, I say, get out of your comfort zone. New experiences might seem quite daunting at first, but they're worth it".

Can you believe Dejana was also lucky enough to work with local scientists during her internship on analysing dinosaur footprints?

Now working in politics, Dejana continues to advocate for law reform. In her role, she conducts research and is principal adviser to a Member of the Legislative Council of South Australia.

UniSA COLLEGE PROGRAMS

UniSA College offers alternative entry programs that can help you gain direct entry into a UniSA or UniSA Online degree. These programs will prepare you for university study by building core knowledge and skills. You'll experience life as a UniSA student, and after successful completion, you'll be able to easily transfer into a wide range of bachelor programs.

Did you know UniSA College programs can also be listed in your SATAC application as a back-up to your preferred UniSA degrees?

Diplomas

Our range of two-year diplomas provide a direct pathway into more than 100 UniSA and UniSA Online degrees. After successfully completing your diploma, you'll transfer into your preferred bachelor's degree with study credit for successfully completed courses. There are entry requirements for UniSA College diplomas, but they're set lower than a bachelor's degree.

In first year, you'll complete introductory courses in your area of focus (depending on the diploma you choose) as well as core courses that will develop your critical writing, communication, numeracy and research skills.

In second year, you'll start studying first-year courses from your linked UniSA or UniSA Online degree. You'll access the same lectures and tutorials as other first-year bachelor students, but you can rely on UniSA College for extra support.

Your home campus will be City West, and depending on your linked degree, you might also study some courses at City East, Magill or Mawson Lakes campuses.

Diplomas include:

- Diploma in Arts
- Diploma in Business
- Diploma in Construction
- Diploma in Engineering
- Diploma in Health
- Diploma in Health (Mount Gambier)
- Diploma in Information Technology
- Diploma in Science and the Environment

SPECIAL TERTIARY ADMISSIONS TEST

If you don't have a competitive result from Year 12, VET or previous university study, you may qualify for special entry into your preferred UniSA degree by choosing to sit the Special Tertiary Admissions Test (STAT) – 70 multiple choice questions designed to assess your aptitude for tertiary study. Your results will be used to create a ranking that you can then use to compete for entry with other special entry applicants. To be eligible, you must be aged over 18 years by 1 February (or 1 July for midyear entry) in the year you wish to commence your study.

TERTIARY TRANSFER

If your Year 12 results were lower than expected, you have the option of starting a different degree then using your competitive Grade Point Average (GPA) to transfer into your first preference. You can do this after completing four courses, which is typically one full-time study period at UniSA or another recognised higher education institution. Students are also able to transfer into different degrees if they change their mind, using their competitive GPA and after completing a minimum of four courses.

SAIBT DIPLOMAS

SAIBT's diploma programs provide direct entry with study credit into more than 80 UniSA degrees (subject to academic results). As a SAIBT student, you'll have access to UniSA facilities and study in a diverse learning environment with small classes and personalised teaching.

OPEN UNIVERSITIES AUSTRALIA

If you've studied at least four courses of an Open Universities Australia (OUA) degree, you may use your Grade Point Average (GPA) to apply for entry into a UniSA degree. OUA offers undergraduate programs across a variety of disciplines such as accounting and business, engineering, health, languages and management.
