Creative revival sweeps South Australia

As South Australia continues to grow its base in major creative enterprises and startups, UniSA is leading the charge in creative education.

Several cutting-edge companies have made Adelaide their home, bringing new creative expertise to the state and complementing well-known and established South Australian studios like Rising Sun Pictures. With jobs in the creative industries sector growing faster than the Australian economy, the boom is real.

UniSA is offering studies at the forefront of creative thinking, which also bridge the arts, technology and business.

UniSA graduate Jodie Kirkbride is part of the next creative wave, having worked in various roles across the film industry, including a stint in Los Angeles in film sales and distribution. She currently works for KOJO – an independent creative business specialising in brand communication, film and television – and runs her own production company, Get Back JoJo Productions.

Jodie and her team are continuing to shine, recently receiving funding from Screen Australia and Google to make a six-part web series to be released on YouTube.

From Tinseltown to South Australia, the future of the creative sector is bright.

GET IN THE GAME

Offered through the Bachelor of Creative Industries, the course focuses on production elements like writing narratives and developing computer-generated imagery and characters. Graduate with the latest skills needed to join the growing games industry, with an estimated 2.6 billion gamers worldwide, generating approximately A$221 billion a year.*
