“The flexibility of a 100% online degree enables our family to travel while managing a small Australian distribution business, which I do from a co-working space in Ubud, Bali.

My first year of study has filled in a lot of gaps in my business knowledge, which has given me a lot more confidence in running my business. While I can produce and understand financial reports more efficiently, the major benefit has been improving my knowledge and understanding across all areas of business.”

I have a wealth of work experience and a strong management background, but no formal education to back it up. This hit home when I missed out on a job opportunity because I lacked the relevant university qualifications.

After moving to Australia, I continued my career holding managerial roles and head of operations for a number of restaurants and retail chains. As a I progressed through my career, I was faced with unexpected and complex scenarios every day, which made me realise that I needed to learn new skills and tools to fill the gaps. “I’d been considering the aged care sector as a career change when my father passed away last year. He’d been living with Parkinsons Disease for some time and then was diagnosed with cancer. It opened my eyes to the kinds of support that older people can access and gave me insight into living with chronic illness.

I am motivated by my personal experiences and enjoy being around older people and making a difference. I know that starting in a new industry means beginning with an entry-level role but I know I have a lot of life and professional experience to offer. “Studying 100% online works perfectly for me. Some universities were offering degrees that were delivered half in a classroom and half online, which just wouldn’t have worked for me. I have two children and studying on campus would not be possible.

The quality of my study material is great and the academics are wonderful. The fact that we’re able to access our material a week prior to the study period is extremely helpful.”

"I find the work I do very interesting and have learned a lot from my team but I've felt I needed something more concrete to be able to put on my resume.

Initially I thought it would be difficult to motivate myself without the consistency of having a set class schedule. Luckily after starting, I was quickly reassured that my worries were ill-founded.

I've found that because my study directly relates to my day-to-day occupation, I am actually really enjoying the course content. The courses also have a lot of structure to them, laid out week by week, and online tutors are very accessible via chat, forums or zoom meetings."
